

AI-ASSISTED EDITORIAL VERIFICATION

Verify before you publish.

Story decks. Article cards. Human verdicts.

- LOCAL EMBEDDINGS
- SOURCE CLAIMS
- EDITOR CONTROL

INDEPENDENT VERIFICATION DESK

LiveBrief

Breaking-news claims, verified by hand before a single line is published.

Feed the desk reports from any number of stories. The machine sorts them into topic piles and extracts every claim with its source and evidence attached – then the judgement is yours. Approve, hold for review or discard each claim; each story's brief is written only from what you approved.

OPEN THE DEMO CASE

FILE YOUR OWN REPORTS

01

into source-grounded confidence and risk-erted as true.

02

Compare

Related claims are grouped; contradictions between sources stay visible until an editor rules on them. 8 injured or 12? You decide.

03

Publish

The final brief is assembled from text alone. No new names or locations can appear.

reported near Port Kessa harbour - The Port Authority confirms an explosion struck the eastern warehouse of

SUMMARIES CAN HIDE RISK

Breaking news is a comparison problem.

- Counts disagree
- Causes are unverified
- Timelines change

2 injured

Official source

6 injured

Local media

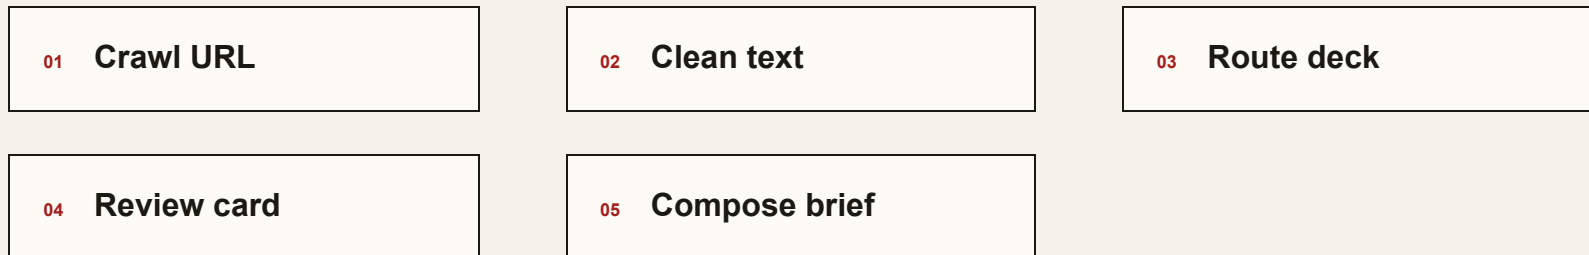

10+ unverified

Social posts

LiveBrief keeps disagreement visible.

ONE URL BECOMES ONE CARD

From source to approved brief.

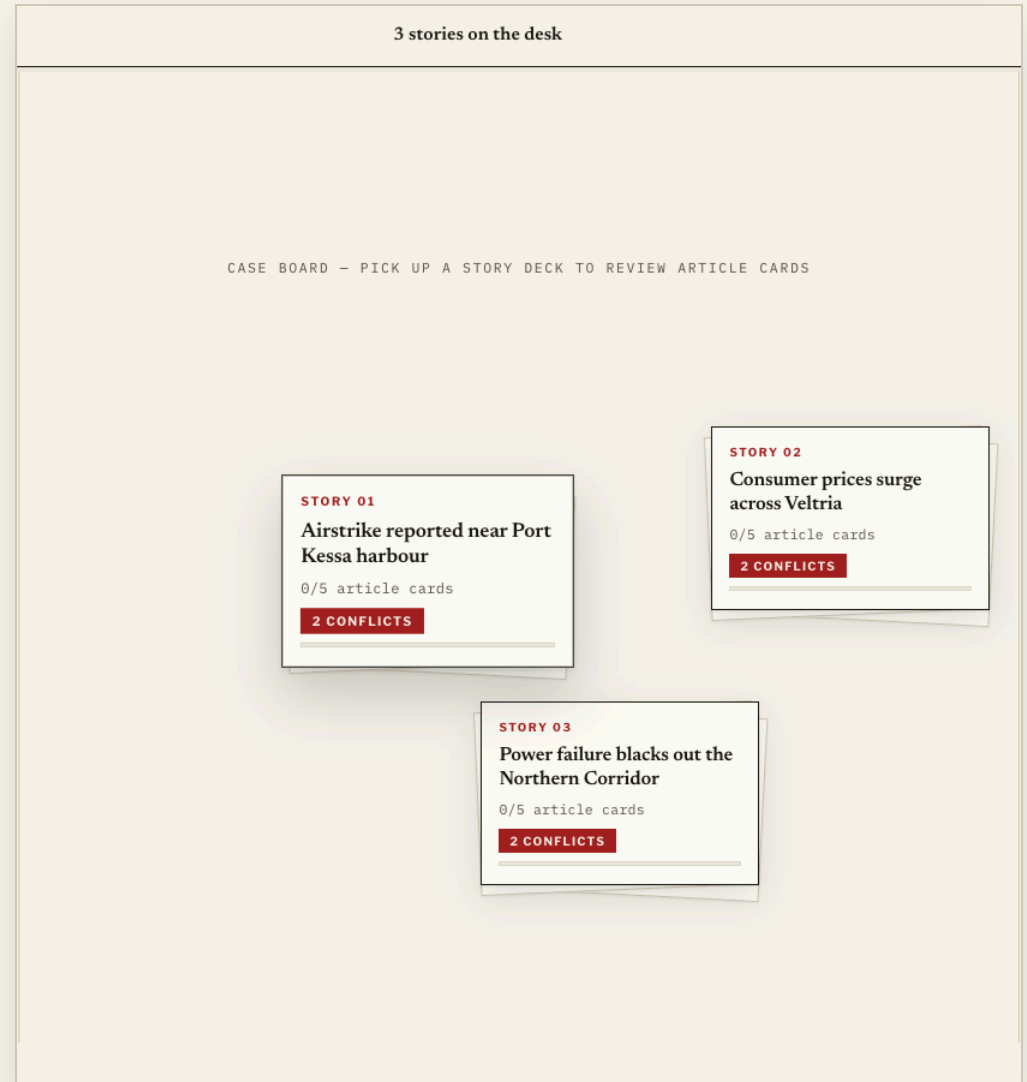

Local open-source embeddings group similar articles. No external embedding API.

STORY DECKS

Similar articles land together.

- One deck = one story
- One card = one article
- Routing shows the target

HUMAN VERDICT

Confidence is extraction certainty.
Risk is editorial caution

- Approve: eligible
- Hold: returns for review
- Discard: excluded

Airstrike reported near Port Kessa harbour

BACK TO THE BOARD

AIRSTRIKE REPORTED NEAR PORT KESSA HARBOUR

0 / 5

ARTICLE ON FILE

01 / 05

HIGH RISK

2 CLAIMS

1 CONFLICTS

Confidence is extraction certainty, not truth.

High risk means the claim needs attribution or extra review.

K

Kessa Port Authority

CLEANED ARTICLE TEXT

Crawled body text with navigation, ads and boilerplate removed. The claims below are extracted from this text.

The Port Authority confirms an explosion struck the eastern warehouse district of Port Kessa at 06:15 this morning. Two dock workers were injured and taken to Harbour General Hospital. Fires in warehouses 4 and 5 were contained by 06:30. Cargo operations in the eastern basin are suspended until further notice while the damage is assessed.

READ FULL CLEANED TEXT

Claims extracted from this article

- An explosion struck the eastern warehouse district at 06:15.
- Two dock workers were injured, according to the port authority.

K

Airstrike reported near Port Kessa harbour

Official statement · 06:42

90%

AVG EXTRACTION CONFIDENCE

← DISCARD

↓ HOLD FOR REVIEW

APPROVE →

UNDO LAST RULING

drag article cards, arrows rule, esc closes

FASTAPI BACKEND

Local embeddings plus editorial safeguards.

Technical Spine

Local routing: sentence-transformers/all-MiniLM-L6-v2 -> normalized vectors -> cosine threshold.

Safety boundary: AI extracts evidence. Journalists approve cards. Brief uses approved claims only.

FASTER WITHOUT GIVING UP JUDGMENT

AI compares. Journalists decide.

Speed

Sort sources into story decks.

Accountability

Trace every claim to source text.

Safety

Briefs use approved claims only.

A sharper verification desk for deadline news.